Түсінік хат

Жаңа білім беру парадигмасының қалыптасуы, ұстаз бен оқушы арасындағы қатынастардың жаңаша жүйесін құру мен дамыту қажеттілігі қазіргі заманғы білім беру жүйесінің ең өзекті мәселелерінің бірі болып табылады. Бұл салада оқыту мен тәрбиелеу процестерінің тиімділігін арттыру үшін педагогикалық инновациялар, жаңа әдіснамалар мен теориялар іздестірілуде. Әсіресе, ұстаз бен оқушылардың арасындағы этикалық қарым-қатынастар, оларды қалыптастыру және жақсарту, білім беру сапасын арттыруда маңызды орын алады.

Қазіргі заманғы білім беру үдерісінің басты мақсаты тек білім беру ғана емес, сонымен қатар тұлғаның жан-жақты дамуына, моральдық және рухани құндылықтар негізінде тәрбиеленуіне бағытталған. Бұл тұрғыда жаңа әдіс-тәсілдер мен технологиялардың қолданылуы, мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы этикалық динамиканың дамуына әсер етеді. Осындай жаңашыл тәсілдердің бірі — Lesson Study әдіснамасы, яғни оқу процесін зерттеу арқылы тиімді әдіс-тәсілдерді жетілдіру. Бұл әдіс мұғалімдер мен оқушылардың арасында этикалық қарым-қатынастарды дамытуға, ұжымдық жұмысқа негізделген оқу атмосферасын қалыптастыруға мүмкіндік береді.

Пәннің мақсаты — оқу процесінде этикалық динамиканы қалыптастыру және дамыту, мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы қарым-қатынастардың гуманистік бағытта болуына ықпал ету. Осы мақсатта оқу-тәрбие процесінің тиімділігін арттыру үшін Lesson Study әдіснамасын қолдану қажеттілігі қарастырылады. Бұл әдіс мұғалімдер мен оқушылардың арасында қарым-қатынасты нығайтып, оқушылардың психологиялық және әлеуметтік дамуындағы оң өзгерістерді қамтамасыз етеді.

Пәннің міндеттері:

1. Оқушылар мен мұғалімдердің арасындағы этикалық қарым-қатынастарды нығайту жолдарын зерттеу.
2. Lesson Study әдіснамасын қолдану арқылы оқу процесінің тиімділігін арттыру.
3. Оқушылардың жеке тұлғалық дамуына ықпал ететін этикалық аспектілерді анықтау.
4. Педагогикалық үдерістегі инновациялық әдістер мен тәсілдердің қолданылуын насихаттау.
5. Оқушылардың психофизиологиялық және әлеуметтік денсаулығын сақтауға бағытталған оқу әдістерін дамыту.

2. Берілген бағдарламаның өзектілігі

Білім беру жүйесінде этикалық аспектілерге ерекше мән берілуі тиіс, себебі оқушылардың жеке тұлғалық дамуы мен моральдық құндылықтарын қалыптастыру тек біліммен ғана емес, олардың араларындағы қарым-қатынастар мен қоғамдық нормалармен де тығыз байланысты. Мұғалім мен оқушылар арасындағы этикалық динамиканың қалыптасуы оқу үдерісінің негізгі элементтерінің бірі ретінде қарастырылуы қажет.

Жалпы алғанда, бұл бағдарлама қазіргі білім беру қажеттіліктеріне жауап береді, себебі ол мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасындағы сенімді және құрметке негізделген қарым-қатынастарды құруға бағытталған. Бұл өз кезегінде оқушылардың психологиялық денсаулығын, әлеуметтік бейімделуін жақсартып, мектепте жайлы және қауіпсіз орта қалыптастыруға көмектеседі.

Сонымен қатар, бұл бағдарлама мұғалімдерге оқыту мен тәрбие үдерісін жаңаша қарауға мүмкіндік береді. Lesson Study әдіснамасы мұғалімдерге өз тәжірибесін талдап, жаңашылдық енгізуге мүмкіндік береді. Мұндай әдіс оқушылардың дағдылары мен білімдерін дамытуға, сондай-ақ олардың этикалық және моральдық құндылықтарын қалыптастыруға мүмкіндік береді. Осылайша, бағдарлама педагогикалық тәжірибені жетілдіруге бағытталған.

3. Жұмыстың ғылыми-әдістемелік деңгейі: жаңашылдық немесе қолданыстағы бағдарламалармен салыстырғанда осы бағдарламаға енгізілген жаңа түсініктемені қалпына келтіру

Lesson Study әдіснамасы қазіргі уақытта көптеген елдерде білім беру үдерісінде тиімділігін көрсетіп келеді. Бұл әдіс мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасындағы қарым-қатынастарды жетілдіруге, оқу сапасын арттыруға мүмкіндік береді. Әдіс педагогикалық зерттеулер мен іс-әрекеттерге негізделген, ол мұғалімдердің кәсіби дамуын, сондай-ақ оқушылардың білімін арттыруды мақсат етеді.

Бұл бағдарламада енгізілген жаңашылдық Lesson Study әдіснамасының тек қана білім беру әдісін емес, мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасындағы этикалық қарым-қатынасты дамытудағы маңыздылығын ұғындыру болып табылады. Мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасындағы өзара түсіністік, құрмет пен сенімнің қалыптасуы оқу нәтижелерін жақсартуға үлкен әсер етеді. Сондықтан бұл бағдарламада этикалық динамиканы дамытуға ерекше назар аударылып отыр.

4. Бағдарламаның ғылымилығы – оның жаңа білім беру парадигмасына, философиясына, әдіснамасына, психологиясына және педагогикалық ғылым мен практиканың соңғы жетістіктеріне сәйкестігі

Бағдарламаның ғылымилығы жоғары деңгейде қамтамасыз етілген, өйткені ол заманауи педагогикалық ғылым мен психологияның соңғы жетістіктеріне негізделген. Оқыту мен тәрбие беру процесінің тиімділігі мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы сенімді және этикалық қарым-қатынастарға байланысты екені ғылымда дәлелденген. Осы тұрғыда Lesson Study әдіснамасы оқушылардың жеке тұлғалық дамуын, олардың әлеуметтік және психологиялық денсаулығын сақтауды басты назарда ұстайды.

Білім беру парадигмасының гуманистік бағытында оқушылардың құндылықтарына және олардың жеке тұлғалық қасиеттерін дамытуға басымдық беріледі. Бұл бағдарламаның басты мақсаттарының бірі — оқушыларды тек қана біліммен қамтамасыз етіп қоймай, оларды моральдық тұрғыда да тәрбиелеу. Әдіснаманың философиялық негізі — оқушыларды адам ретінде құрметтеу, олардың пікірін тыңдау және ынтымақтастыққа негізделген қатынастарды орнату.

5. Бағыттылығы

Бұл бағдарлама оқушыларда білім мен дағды қалыптастырумен қатар, олардың жеке тұлғалық дамуына, психологиялық және әлеуметтік денсаулығына да зор әсер етеді. Мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы этикалық динамика, олардың бірлесіп жұмыс істеуі арқылы білім беру процесінің тиімділігі артады. Сонымен қатар, бағдарлама гуманистік, интеграциялық және инновациялық әдістерді қолдануға негізделген, бұл оқушылардың тұлғалық және интеллектуалдық дамуында үлкен рөл атқарады.

6. Жұмыстың әдіснамалық негізінің ішкі бірлігі мен сипаттамаларын бағалау

Бағдарламаның әдіснамалық негізі жүйелі және дәйекті түрде құрылды. Ол мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасындағы қарым-қатынастарды зерттеуге, жаңаша оқыту әдістерін қолдануға бағытталған. Әдіснаманың барлық элементтері бір-бірімен тығыз байланысты және нәтижелердің жоғары сапасын қамтамасыз етуге мүмкіндік береді.

7. Әр нәтиженің, ғылыми ұстанымның, бағдарламаның мен тұжырымдарының дұрыстығы мен сенімділік деңгейі

Бағдарламаға енгізілген тұжырымдар мен ғылыми ұстанымдар сенімді және дәлелденген. Lesson Study әдіснамасы білім беру саласындағы заманауи зерттеулер мен тәжірибелерге негізделген, оның тиімділігі практикада тексерілген.

#	Lesson Topic	Purpose	Number of Hours	Expected Outcome (in English)

Topic:	Promoting Ethical Use of Technology in the Classroom
Lesson Objective:	To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions			Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Magic Word" Method Objective: Spark interest in the lesson topic and encourage teamwork. - The teacher presents a “magic word” related to the lesson topic. - Students share their thoughts on its meaning and how it connects to the lesson. - For example, in a lesson about fractions, the teacher says "divide" and asks students to explain its meaning. - After students respond, the teacher reveals the lesson topic.			Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Identify ethical and unethical uses of technology - Understand digital responsibilities in academic settings - Practice respectful online behavior - Create shared digital-use norms for the classroom ◆ Task 1: Tech Behavior Sort – “Right or Wrong?” Instructions: Students decide if each action is ethical (✓) or unethical (X) when using technology			Completes Tasks	Descriptor

	Action	✓ / X	Why?
	Copying homework answers from the internet	X	Academic dishonesty
	Using a Chromebook for class notes	✓	Purposeful use
	Posting a funny picture of a classmate without consent	X	Violates privacy
	Reporting cyberbullying to a teacher	✓	Responsible digital action
	Chatting with friends during a test	X	Breaks trust and rules	Completes Tasks
	✓ Descriptor: - Recognizes ethical digital actions - Explains reasoning using classroom values (respect, honesty, safety)
	 Task 2: Scenario Discussion – “What Should We Do?” Instructions: Groups receive real-life digital dilemmas and fill in the table:
	Scenario	Ethical Issue	What could go wrong?	Ethical Response
	A student shares a meme that insults someone	Cyberbullying	Hurt feelings, exclusion	Report and discuss the impact
	Taking a photo in class without permission	Privacy	Breaks trust, school rules	Ask before sharing, or don't take it
	Using AI to complete an assignment	Integrity	Unfair advantage, no learning	Use AI only as a tool, not to replace own work

nt

 Reflection Prompt:
“How would you feel if this happened to you?”
“What rule or value is being challenged here?”

 Descriptor:

- Evaluates digital dilemmas critically
- Suggests ethical alternatives

♦ Task 3: Create a “Digital Ethics Code” for Our Class

Instructions: Groups design a Digital Ethics Code Poster with:

- 3 DOs (responsible tech actions)
- 3 DON'Ts (harmful behaviors to avoid)
- 1 ethical quote about technology

Example:

 Do	 Don't
Use tech to learn and grow	Use tech to bully or harm
Respect digital privacy	Share without consent
Think before you post	Copy others' work

♦ Tools: Canva, Google Slides, paper/poster

 Descriptor:

- Collaborates to develop tech-use rules
- Applies values of respect, fairness, and safety

 Mini Reflection Table

One new thing I learned	One bad tech habit I will change	One way I will be a digital role model

 Optional Digital Citizenship Rubric

Skill	Emerging	Developing	Proficient
Uses devices responsibly in class	☐	☐	☐
Respects digital rights of others	☐	☐	☐
Understands ethical vs. unethical tech use	☐	☐	☐

 Bonus Tools:

- Watch a short video on digital ethics (e.g., “Pause & Think Online” by Common Sense)
- Use Padlet to post ideas on “Tech I use and how I use it responsibly”
- Create real-life case simulations for student leaders

Lesson End	"Traffic Light" Method - The teacher provides students with three colored cards: green, yellow, and red. Green – I am ready for the lesson, everything is clear. Yellow – I have some questions, but I am ready to work. Red – I do not understand the topic, I need help.	Follows Instructions	Provides Feedback

Topic:		Addressing Bullying and Promoting Respect
Lesson Objective:		To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Compliment Bridge" Method Objective: Build friendly relationships and boost students' confidence. - Students stand in a line and give a compliment to the classmate next to them. - The process continues until everyone has received and given a kind word. - This method enhances confidence and helps students start the lesson with a positive mindset.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Recognize different forms of bullying - Respond to bullying in an ethical and respectful way - Promote kindness, inclusion, and responsibility in the classroom	Completes Tasks	Descriptor
	- Activity 1: Real or Not? Instructions: The teacher reads several short situations aloud. After each one, students move to different corners of the room labeled: “That is bullying” “That is not bullying”	Completes Tasks <

	• “I’m not sure” After moving, students explain why they chose that option. This sparks discussion and clarifies misunderstandings. Example statements: • A student laughs loudly when someone makes a mistake. • A group refuses to sit with one person every day. • Two friends argue over who will go first in a game. • Someone posts a picture of a classmate without permission. Learning focus: Differentiating between bullying, conflict, and misunderstanding.	Completes Tasks Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	♦ Activity 2: Role-Play – Change the Story Instructions: In small groups, students are given a bullying situation to act out. First, they act out the negative version (what often happens). Then they rewrite and act out a positive version, where someone speaks up, shows empathy, or asks for help. Scenarios could include: • A student is mocked for their appearance. • Someone is left out of group work. • A rumor is spread about a classmate. Teacher prompt questions: • “What could someone have done differently?” • “How would you feel if that were you?” • “What would a respectful person say or do?”
	 Activity 3: Empathy Circle – Pass the Word Instructions: Students sit in a circle. A “speaking object” (ball, soft toy, etc.) is passed around. Only the person holding it may speak. They finish this sentence: “I feel respected when...” “I help stop bullying by...” “One kind thing someone did for me was...” This builds emotional sharing and community.
	♦ Activity 4: Create a Class Respect Pledge (Optional Group Project) Instructions: As a class or in small groups, students co-create a Respect Pledge. This could be done verbally or on chart paper and include sentences such as:

	• “In our class, we speak kindly.” • “We include others.” • “We do not laugh at or ignore anyone.” • “We stand up for each other.” Hang it on the wall or refer to it weekly.
	🧑‍🦰 Wrap-Up Prompt (Individual Reflection) “What is one thing you will do to make this classroom a more respectful and safe place?” Students may: • Write their answer on a sticky note • Share aloud (voluntarily) • Add it to a classroom “Respect Wall”
	Descriptive Success Indicators (Descriptors): • Recognizes and explains bullying behavior • Shows empathy and responsibility in group interactions • Uses kind and respectful language in role-play and reflection
Lesson End	Success Ladder" Method 📌 Instructions: • The teacher draws a staircase on the board or provides individual worksheets with a ladder illustration. • Students mark their current level of understanding and progress. • The steps can represent different levels, such as: ☐ don't understand the topic. 🔲 have some questions. 🔲 partially understand. 🔲 fully understand and can explain it to others. • This method helps students self-assess their learning progress and encourages reflection. 	♦ Activity 2: Four-Step Ethical Thinking Tool Instructions: Introduce a simple structure for ethical thinking. Then give students new dilemmas and ask them to apply the steps individually or in small groups. The 4 Steps: 1. Stop and think – What is the situation? 2. Consider the values – What's fair? Who might be affected? 3. Think of options – What are the choices? 4. Choose the best one – Which is the most respectful and responsible? Example situation: A group member refuses to do their part. Should you report it or do the work for them? Students walk through the 4 steps and share their thinking out loud.
	🎭 Activity 3: Role-Play – Right or Wrong? Instructions: In pairs or small groups, students act out ethical classroom situations. One plays the "decision-maker", others play peers or teacher. After the short skit, the group reflects: - Was the decision fair and respectful? - Could there have been a better solution? - What values were (or weren't) used? Suggested scenarios: - Choosing whether to include someone in a group - Deciding how to respond to a classmate's mistake - Sharing your honest opinion when it might hurt feelings 🎤 This promotes both emotional intelligence and ethical thinking through speaking and acting.

	 Wrap-Up Reflection (Individual) Ask students to quietly reflect and write: “Describe a moment when you made an ethical or unethical decision in school. What did you learn from it?” You may also ask: • What values guide your decisions? • What makes it hard to choose the right thing?
	 Descriptors (Success Criteria): • Explains the reasoning behind classroom decisions • Applies values like honesty, fairness, empathy • Listens to others’ opinions with respect • Reflects thoughtfully on personal choices
	 Optional Tools: • Create an “Ethical Toolkit” poster with class values • Design “Decision Cards” for future classroom dilemmas • Use sticky notes for anonymous responses in reflection
Lesson End	"Know – Want to Know – Learned" (KWL) Method  Instructions: • The teacher provides students with a three-column chart: <table border="1"><tr><td> Know (Білемін)</td><td> Want to Know (Білгім келеді)</td><td> Learned (Үйрендім)</td></tr><tr><td>What I already know about the topic</td><td>What I want to learn</td><td>What I have learned by the end of the lesson</td></tr></table> • At the beginning of the lesson, students fill in the first two columns. • At the end of the lesson, they complete the third column with new knowledge gained. • This method activates prior knowledge, encourages curiosity, and helps track learning progress. Topic:	Role-Playing Ethical Scenarios
Lesson Objective:	To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"One Word" Method  Objective: Determine students' emotional readiness for the lesson. - The teacher asks the question: "What do you expect from today's lesson?" - Each student responds with one word (e.g., interesting, useful, difficult, new, unique). - Based on the responses, the teacher can adjust the lesson approach to match students' expectations and engagement levels.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Recognize ethical challenges in everyday school life - Understand how choices affect others - Practice respectful and thoughtful decision-making through role-play - Reflect on different perspectives	Completes Tasks	Descriptor
	 Activity 1: Warm-Up – "Step into the Shoes" Instructions: Teacher gives short one-sentence ethical situations (e.g., "You saw someone being teased for their clothes"). Students silently imagine:	Completes Tasks	T L

	• How would I feel? • What would I want others to do? • What would be the right thing to do? Then, 2–3 volunteers share their thoughts. This helps students prepare emotionally for the role-play.	Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	 Activity 2: Role-Play Scenarios – "Act and Reflect" Instructions: 1. Divide students into groups of 3–4. 2. Each group receives a different ethical scenario. 3. Groups create a short skit (1–2 min) to act out the ethical dilemma. 4. They also prepare and perform a positive solution (how it could be handled respectfully and ethically).	Completes Tasks
	Examples of Scenarios: • A student is excluded from group work because of their accent. • A classmate cheats and asks you not to tell. • Two students argue loudly during a group task. • A teacher praises only certain students unfairly. • A peer posts a picture without permission.	Completes Tasks
	After each performance, the class discusses: • What was the dilemma? • Was the response respectful and ethical? • How did the characters feel? • What would YOU do in real life?
	 Activity 3: Role Reversal (Optional Extension) Groups swap roles and act out the same scenario from another character's perspective. For example: • From the victim's side • From the bystander's view • From the teacher's position  This deepens empathy and perspective-taking.
	 Wrap-Up Reflection (Verbal or Written) Prompts: • "One thing I learned about ethical behavior is..." • "In a conflict, I want to be someone who..."

	• “Next time I face a hard choice, I will...” Students can share aloud, write in journals, or post anonymous sticky notes.
	✅ Descriptors for Success: • Demonstrates respectful and ethical decision-making in role-play • Collaborates with group effectively • Shows empathy toward others • Reflects meaningfully on classroom situations
	💡 Tips for Engagement: • Use props (backpacks, books, name tags) for fun • Play soft music during reflection • Record performances for students to review their tone/body language
Lesson End	 "Five Fingers" Method 🔴 Instructions: • The teacher shows students a picture of a hand and explains the meaning of each finger: 👍 Thumb – I liked it. 👉 Index Finger – It was difficult for me. 👌 Middle Finger – It was unclear to me. 👍 Ring Finger – I gained new knowledge. 👉 Little Finger – I can now apply it. • Students reflect on the lesson by choosing the finger that best describes their experience. Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Show Your Mood" Objective: Determine students' mood and assess their readiness for the lesson. - The teacher displays various emoji representing different emotions. - Students select an emoji that reflects how they feel about the lesson or place a sticky note on the board. - Based on students' moods, the teacher adjusts lesson engagement strategies accordingly.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Explore how ethical issues appear in different subjects - Discuss real-life situations related to curriculum content - Practice designing or identifying ethical moments in lessons - Reflect on how values can be taught across disciplines	Completes Tasks Completes Tasks	Descriptor  T L
	♦ Activity 1: "Where's the Ethics?" (Brainstorm Walk) Instructions:	Completes Tasks

	The teacher names a subject (e.g., Science, History, Literature, Math, Art). Students brainstorm in pairs or small groups: “Where could ethical questions appear in this subject?” They share examples with the class. Teacher writes ideas on the board. Examples: • Science: Should animals be used for experiments? • History: Was colonization ever justified? • Literature: Was the character’s decision morally right? • Math: Is it ethical to manipulate statistics to persuade people? • ICT: What are the dangers of AI misuse?  Goal: Realize that ethics is everywhere — not just in special lessons.	Completes Tasks Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	 Activity 2: Subject Mini-Scenario Creation Instructions: Groups choose (or are assigned) a subject and are asked to: 1. Create a mini-lesson idea or scenario in that subject. 2. Include an ethical question or challenge. 3. Be ready to present it to the class. Example: • Biology: “During a lesson on genetics, discuss: Should parents be allowed to design their babies’ traits?” • Art: “A student copies an image from the internet — is it plagiarism?” • Geography: “Who is responsible when humans destroy natural landscapes for tourism?” • English: “Write a diary entry from a character who faced an ethical dilemma.” Each group presents: • The subject • The lesson moment • The ethical link/question
	 Activity 3: Gallery Walk – “Ethics Across the Curriculum” Instructions: Groups write their ideas on large sheets or slides. Students walk around the room (or scroll through slides) to explore how ethics connects to all areas.

	Each student or group: - Leaves a sticky note with a question, comment, or extension idea - Reflects: “Which subject surprised you the most?” - Thinks: “How can I use this in my future teaching or learning?”
	🧑‍🎓 Wrap-Up Reflection (Exit Prompt) Students respond individually to: “Why is it important to connect ethics to every subject?” “How does ethical thinking improve learning?” “Which subject would I like to explore deeper through ethics?” They may share aloud, submit in writing, or post digitally.
	✅ Descriptors (Success Indicators): - Identifies subject-specific ethical situations - Collaborates in linking curriculum with values - Reflects critically on the role of ethics in education - Presents clear, creative examples
	💡 Optional Tools: - Use Padlet or Jamboard for idea sharing - Include news headlines related to school subjects for ethical analysis - Connect to UN Sustainable Development Goals as interdisciplinary ethical themes
Lesson End	"Success Ladder" - The teacher draws a staircase on the board or provides a ready-made template. - Students mark the level where they feel they are: ☐ did not understand the topic. ☐ still have some questions. ☐ partially understood. ☐ fully understood and can explain it to others. Topic:	Collaborative Lesson Planning on Ethical Dynamics
Lesson Objective:	To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Secret Gift" Method Objective: Encourage students and increase their interest in the lesson. - The teacher informs students that the most active participant of the lesson will receive a "secret gift." - The gift can be a small item (badge, candy, stickers) or a card with words of praise. - This method helps boost students' motivation and engagement.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Collaborate to design a mini-lesson plan that integrates ethical values - Choose ethical themes relevant to school life or subjects - Practice structuring engaging activities with ethical impact - Reflect on how ethics enhance learning outcomes	Completes Tasks	Descriptor

	brainstorm ethical themes they feel are important for learners. They write these on sticky notes or a shared slide. Example themes: • Respect and fairness • Inclusion and diversity • Digital responsibility • Honesty and academic integrity • Environmental responsibility • Teamwork and conflict resolution Each team selects ONE theme to base their lesson plan on.	Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	✿ Activity 2: Mini Collaborative Lesson Planning Challenge Task: In your group, create a 15–20 minute mini-lesson plan focused on your chosen ethical theme. Your lesson must include: 1. Topic/title 2. Objective(s) 3. Engaging activity that explores the ethical concept 4. Student interaction (pair/group talk, role-play, etc.) 5. Reflection prompt or takeaway message 💬 Support Prompts: • How will students explore the dilemma or value? • What skills will they practice? • How will they reflect on the experience? Each group writes their outline on chart paper or a shared Google Doc/Slides. ✅ Descriptors for success: • The lesson promotes critical thinking and respectful dialogue • The activity is age-appropriate and engaging • Ethical thinking is meaningfully embedded	Completes Tasks
	🎤 Activity 3: Gallery Share & Feedback Each group briefly presents their mini-lesson (2–3 minutes per group). While listening, others give peer feedback using sticky notes or a feedback grid: • ★ One thing I liked • 💡 One idea to improve • ? One question I have 💬 Optional: Use "Two Stars and a Wish" format for positivity.

	👤 Wrap-Up Reflection Each participant writes or discusses: “How can I include ethical thinking more purposefully in my lessons?” “What part of this collaboration helped me most?” “Which activity or idea would I try in my own class?” This may be submitted on paper, shared aloud, or posted digitally (e.g., Padlet).
	✅ Success Indicators: • Collaborates actively in group planning • Designs clear and purposeful ethical learning experiences • Gives and receives feedback constructively • Reflects on teaching values and classroom impact
	💡 Extra options: • Use a template with open boxes: Theme – Objective – Activity – Reflection • Offer digital tools: Canva, Slides, Jamboard for collaboration • Print the best lessons in a shared booklet or virtual board
Lesson End	"Two Stars, One Wish" • Each student writes two positive things (stars) and one suggestion (wish): ★ Today I learned this well... ★ I completed this task successfully... 💡 I need to improve on this... • The teacher collects and analyzes students' responses. Topic:	Observing and Reflecting on Classroom Ethics
Lesson Objective:	To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Magic Word" Method Objective: Spark interest in the lesson topic and encourage teamwork. - The teacher presents a “magic word” related to the lesson topic. - Students share their thoughts on its meaning and how it connects to the lesson. - For example, in a lesson about fractions, the teacher says "divide" and asks students to explain its meaning. - After students respond, the teacher reveals the lesson topic.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Identify ethical and unethical behaviors in real or simulated classroom settings - Analyze how these behaviors affect learning and relationships - Reflect on one's own role in maintaining an ethical environment - Propose strategies to strengthen ethical culture in class	Completes Tasks	Descriptor

	scenario that includes both positive and negative behaviors (can be scripted or acted out live). While observing, students take notes silently on: • Moments where ethical values (e.g., fairness, honesty, respect) were present • Moments where ethics were broken (e.g., disrespect, exclusion, favoritism) • Emotional impact on students and teacher • Power dynamics in the room 💬 If video isn't available, a narrated role-play or teacher story can be used.	Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	💬 Activity 2: Group Discussion – What Did You See? Instructions: In groups of 3–4, students discuss what they observed, guided by these questions: • Which values were clearly respected or ignored? • How did certain actions affect the classroom environment? • What would you have done differently as a teacher or classmate? • Was anyone silently affected? 🎯 This helps students recognize subtle ethical moments and their ripple effects.	Completes Tasks
	🎭 Activity 3: Rewrite the Moment (Optional Role-Play) In pairs or groups, choose one critical moment from the observation. Then, act out an alternative version that shows ethical, respectful behavior. Example: Instead of a teacher ignoring a shy student, show the teacher involving them gently. Instead of a group excluding a peer, show them inviting and encouraging participation. 🗣️ Prompt: “How would empathy change this situation?”
	🧘 Reflection (Silent or Written) Ask learners to answer quietly: • “What ethical moments have I seen in my own classroom (positive or negative)?” • “What role do I play in shaping class ethics – even as a student?” • “What will I do differently after this observation?”

	This can be written in journals, shared anonymously, or discussed in pairs.
	✅ Descriptors for Success: • Notices both obvious and subtle ethical behaviors in the classroom • Reflects with depth on real classroom dynamics • Shares ideas with empathy and honesty • Suggests constructive improvements to promote respect and fairness
	💡 Optional Tools: • Use Google Jamboard for recording ethical moments • Introduce a class “Ethical Observation Log” for a full week • Invite students to create a visual “Class Ethics Map” showing zones of respect and tension in the room
Lesson End	"Traffic Light" Method • The teacher provides students with three colored cards: green, yellow, and red. • Green – I am ready for the lesson, everything is clear. • Yellow – I have some questions, but I am ready to work. • Red – I do not understand the topic, I need help. Topic:		Peer Observation and Feedback on Ethical Practices
Lesson Objective:		To understand ethical dynamics in the classroom and promote respectful, responsible behavior among students and teachers. To develop skills for ethical communication, collaboration, and decision-making in school settings.
Lesson Procedure
Planned Lesson Stages	Teacher's Actions	Student's Actions	Assessment	Resources
Lesson Beginning	"Magic Box" Method Objective: Increase students' interest and motivation for the lesson. - The teacher places an object (symbolic) related to the lesson inside a mystery box. - Students guess what might be inside and share their thoughts. - The teacher then reveals the object and explains its connection to the lesson. - This method develops students' inquiry skills and curiosity.	Follows Instructions	Verbal Praise
Lesson Middle	 Learning Objectives: - Observe teaching or peer interaction with a focus on ethics - Identify ethical strengths and areas for growth in peer behavior - Practice giving feedback using respectful and supportive language - Reflect on how ethical practices shape classroom culture	Completes Tasks Completes Tasks	Descriptor  T L

	practices in teaching or group work might look like. Brainstorm key values such as: • Respect for all learners • Fairness in participation • Encouraging voice and choice • Handling mistakes with kindness • Being inclusive and attentive The class co-creates an "Ethical Observation Focus List" — 3 to 5 things they will watch for during peer activities or teaching simulations.	Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	 Activity 2: Peer Teaching or Group Scenario Observation Instructions: Each participant or group performs a short teaching micro-lesson, classroom role-play, or group task (3–5 minutes). The rest of the class observes quietly, using the focus list from Activity 1. Observers take mental or written notes: • When did the presenter show empathy or fairness? • Was there a moment of challenge handled ethically? • Did the environment feel inclusive? If live teaching is not possible, this can be done with video recordings or scripted role-play scenes.	Completes Tasks
	 Activity 3: Feedback Circle – “Kind, Specific, Helpful” Instructions: After each observation, the group gives feedback using the K.S.H. method: 1. Kind – Start with something the peer did well (e.g., “I noticed you...”). 2. Specific – Mention the exact ethical behavior observed. 3. Helpful – Suggest one idea for growth or reflection. Example feedback: “You made eye contact with every student — that showed respect. Maybe next time you could also check in with the quieter students.”  Optional: Use role cards for giving feedback (e.g., “The Encourager,” “The Challenger,” “The Clarifier”).
	 Activity 4: Personal Reflection Prompt Ask each participant to reflect silently or in writing:

	• “What did I learn from watching others today?” • “What feedback made me think deeper about ethics?” • “What will I do differently next time to improve my ethical practice?” Encourage voluntary sharing in a closing circle or exit slips.
	✅ Descriptors for Success: • Observes ethically relevant behaviors with attention and respect • Gives feedback that is kind, specific, and growth-oriented • Reflects meaningfully on personal and peer ethical practices • Demonstrates emotional intelligence in response to feedback
	💡 Optional Tools: • Create an Ethical Feedback Bookmark with sentence starters • Use Google Forms or Padlet for anonymous peer feedback • Record peer lessons for reflective video review
Lesson End	 "Mood Emojis" Method 📌 Instructions: • The teacher shows students different emoji images (😊 😐 😞) or other mood-indicating symbols. • Students select an emoji that best represents their mood and attitude towards the lesson. • This method helps the teacher understand students' emotional state and adjust the lesson approach accordingly. 	2. Provide each group with a different realistic ethical case study (can be printed or read aloud). 3. Groups read and analyze the case, then prepare to discuss their views and recommendations.		Verbal Praise
	Sample Case Study A: "The Favoritism Concern" A teacher regularly praises one or two students while others feel unnoticed. One student complains quietly that the teacher never calls on them, even when their hand is raised. – Is this unfair treatment? – How should the teacher respond? – What would be an ethical way to restore balance?	Completes Tasks
	Sample Case Study B: "The Cheating Dilemma" During an exam, a student sees a friend cheating. The student is unsure whether to report it. They don't want to get their friend in trouble — but it feels wrong to stay silent. – What values are in conflict here? – What are the possible consequences of each choice? – How can fairness and loyalty both be respected?	Completes Tasks
	💬 Activity 2: Group Ethical Dialogue After reading the case, each group discusses the following: • What is the ethical problem? • Who is affected, and how? • What values are in conflict (e.g., honesty vs. friendship)? • What options are available? • What action would your group choose — and why? Each group shares a brief summary of their case and decision with the whole class.
	🎭 Optional Activity 3: Role-Play or Dramatization If time allows, groups may act out their case and the solution they recommend. This adds emotional depth and helps visualize ethical choices in action.
	🧘 Activity 4: Personal Reflection Prompt Ask students to reflect silently or write: • “Which case made me think the most — and why?" • "Have I ever been in a similar situation?" • "What values do I want to uphold when I become a teacher/student leader?" Encourage voluntary sharing in pairs or a closing circle.

	✅ Descriptors for Success: • Identifies ethical dilemmas and values involved • Analyzes consequences of different choices • Respects differing perspectives during discussion • Communicates decisions with empathy and clarity
	💡 Optional Enhancements: • Let learners create their own ethical scenarios based on school experience • Use a debate format for opposing solutions • Integrate with digital tools: Padlet (posting opinions), Jamboard (mapping dilemmas), or Google Docs (collaborative analysis)
Lesson End	"What Did I Like? What Was Difficult? What Did I Learn?" ✦ Instructions: • Students answer three key questions: ✅ What did I like? – What was the most interesting part of the lesson? ⚠️ What was difficult? – Which task or concept was challenging? 📚 What did I learn? – What new thing did I learn today? This method encourages reflection and helps students analyze their learning progress.	Follows Instructions	Provides Feedback

	♦ 3. Game: Ethics Role Play (10 minutes) Instructions: - In pairs or groups of three, students receive a scenario. - They role-play how they would respond ethically. - The class watches and provides feedback using these questions: - Was the action ethical? - Could there be another ethical choice? Scenario examples: - Your best friend asks you to lie for them. - You accidentally broke a classmate's project.
	♦ 4. Mini Task: My Ethical Code (5 minutes) Instructions: - Students write 3–5 personal ethical rules they want to follow (e.g., Be honest, Respect others). - Share in pairs or post on the classroom wall.
Lesson End	Success Ladder" Method ♦ Instructions: - The teacher draws a staircase on the board or provides individual worksheets with a ladder illustration. - Students mark their current level of understanding and progress.	Follows Instructions	Provides Feedback

- The steps can represent different levels, such as:
 - ☐ don't understand the topic.
 - ☐ have some questions.
 - ☐ partially understand.
 - ☐ fully understand and can explain it to others.

	Reinforce vocabulary and understanding of ethical traits.
	◆ 2. Group Activity: Ethics Mind Map (10 minutes) Instructions: In small groups, students create a mind map on chart paper or in notebooks. Write “Ethical Dynamics” in the center. Branch out into subtopics: values, decision-making, social responsibility, empathy, fairness. Add definitions, real-life examples, and illustrations. Optional Extension: Groups present their maps briefly to the class.	Completes Tasks Completes Tasks	Verbal Praise
	◆ 3. Task: Match It! Term & Scenario (10 minutes) Instructions: Prepare cards with ethical concepts and separate cards with real-life situations. In pairs, students match each situation to the most relevant ethical term. Examples: <table><tr><td>Concept</td><td>Scenario</td></tr><tr><td>Empathy</td><td>You comfort a classmate who's feeling down.</td></tr><tr><td>Fairness</td><td>You make sure everyone gets a turn in a group activity.</td></tr><tr><td>Responsibility</td><td>You admit to your mistake and correct it.</td></tr></table> Goal: Strengthen the ability to recognize ethics in context.	Concept	Scenario	Empathy	You comfort a classmate who's feeling down.	Fairness	You make sure everyone gets a turn in a group activity.	Responsibility	You admit to your mistake and correct it.
Concept	Scenario
Empathy	You comfort a classmate who's feeling down.
Fairness	You make sure everyone gets a turn in a group activity.
Responsibility	You admit to your mistake and correct it.
	◆ 4. Reflection Prompt: What I Value Most (5 minutes) Instructions: Students answer in writing or discussion: "Which ethical value is most important to you and why?" "How do you show it in your daily life?"

Lesson End	"Five Fingers" Method ✦ Instructions: - The teacher shows students a picture of a hand and explains the meaning of each finger: 👍 Thumb – I liked it. 👉 Index Finger – It was difficult for me. 👈 Middle Finger – It was unclear to me. 👉 Ring Finger – I gained new knowledge. 👈 Little Finger – I can now apply it. - Students reflect on the lesson by choosing the finger that best describes their experience. - This method helps assess understanding and gather feedback on the lesson. Қорытынды

Қазіргі білім беру жүйесі оқушының тек академиялық білімін ғана емес, сонымен қатар оның тұлғалық, әлеуметтік, эмоционалдық және моральдық дамуын басты назарға алады. Осы мақсатта мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы қарым-қатынастың этикалық динамикасы ерекше рөл атқарады. Бағдарламада ұсынылған Lesson Study әдіснамасы оқу үдерісін жаңаша ұйымдастырып, мұғалімдерге өз кәсіби қызметін жетілдіруге, оқушылардың қажеттіліктерін тереңірек түсінуге мүмкіндік береді.

Бағдарлама аясында мұғалімдер мен оқушылар арасында сенімді, құрметке негізделген орта қалыптастыру, ашық коммуникация орнату, оқушылардың этикалық шешім қабылдау қабілеттерін дамытуға баса назар аударылды. Әрбір тақырып мұғалімнің кәсіби дамуына, оқушының тұлғалық өсуіне, оқу үдерісінің тиімділігіне ықпал етеді.

Этикалық қарым-қатынас пен Lesson Study әдіснамасының ықпалы білім сапасының артуына, психологиялық тұрғыда қауіпсіз орта қалыптастыруға және білім беруде адами факторды күшейтуге ықпал етеді. Бұл бағдарлама қазіргі заманның талаптарына жауап беретін, практикалық және теориялық негізі мықты, жаңашыл, тиімді құрал болып табылады.

Теориялық ақпарат хат

Бұл бағдарлама 10-сынып оқушыларына арналған және мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы этикалық қатынасты қалыптастыру мен нығайтуға бағытталған. Сабақтарда зерттеу мен бірлескен әрекетке негізделген Lesson Study әдіснамасы пайдаланылады. Бағдарлама оқушының тұлғалық, әлеуметтік және моральдық дамуын қамтамасыз етуді мақсат етеді.

Бағдарлама екі негізгі теориялық бағытқа негізделген:

Lesson Study әдістемелік негізі

Бағдарламада қолданылатын негізгі әдіс – Lesson Study, оның негізін қалаушы – жапондық ғалым Макото Йошида (Makoto Yoshida). Бұл әдіс мұғалімдердің бірлескен іс-әрекеті арқылы сабақты жоспарлау, өткізу және талдау арқылы білім беру сапасын арттыруға бағытталған.

Lesson Study тәсілі:

- Мұғалімдердің кәсіби дамуын қамтамасыз етеді;
- Сабақ барысындағы оқушы әрекетін терең зерттеуге мүмкіндік береді;
- Ынтымақтастық пен рефлексия мәдениетін дамытады;
- Этикалық қарым-қатынасты дамытудың тиімді құралы ретінде қарастырылады.

Этикалық қарым-қатынас – Эммануил Кант философиясы негізінде

Бағдарламада этикалық тәрбие неміс философы Эммануил Канттың моральдық теориясына сүйеніп құрылған. Канттың адамгершілік философиясының басты қағидасы: «Адамды ешқашан құрал ретінде емес, әрқашан мақсат ретінде қабылда».

Осы негізде бағдарламада:

- Мұғалім мен оқушы арасындағы тең құқықтық пен өзара сыйластық;
- Сенім мен жауапкершілікке негізделген қатынас;
- Адалдық, әділеттілік және эмпатия құндылықтары дәріптеледі.

Этикалық динамика оқушының ішкі дүниесін, эмоциялық тұрақтылығын, әлеуметтік бейімделуін дамытуда маңызды рөл атқарады.

Бұл авторлық бағдарлама – Макото Йошиданың Lesson Study әдіснамасына және Эммануил Канттың этикалық теориясына негізделі отырып, қазіргі заманғы білім беру талаптарына сай әзірленген. Ол оқушы мен мұғалім арасындағы өзара түсіністік пен сенім атмосферасын қалыптастыруға, білім беру ортасын адамгершілік пен этикаға негіздеуге бағытталған.
